

Anabaptism inspiring and resourcing the church

Come and hear
Stuart Murray Williams
*author The Naked Anabaptist

Juliet Kilpin
*coordinator Urban Expression

Saturday 1 March 10am – 4pm

Hillhead Kelvinside Church, Observatory Road, Glasgow, G12 9AR
just off top of Byres Road discover a grassroots, peaceful, Jesus-following tradition

be inspired by new ways of being church be challenged by new ways of thinking about mission

be encouraged

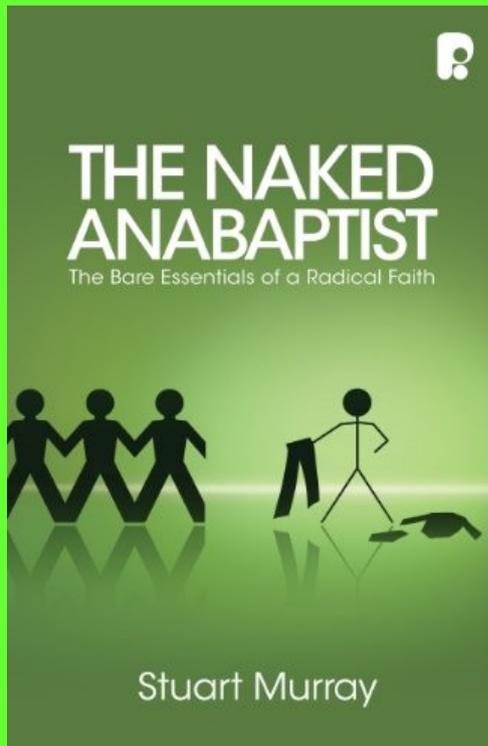

Cost £20

If you want to be certain of lunch let Ian Milligan know if you are coming.
ianmilligan10@gmail.com

Anabaptist Network in Scotland www.anabaptistnetwork.com
Event Co-Sponsored by Trinity College and Mosaic Church Glasgow

"The Anabaptists are beginning to make more and more sense in a world that is increasingly aware of the emptiness of materialism and the ugliness of militarism"

Shane Claiborne, author of The Irresistible Revolution

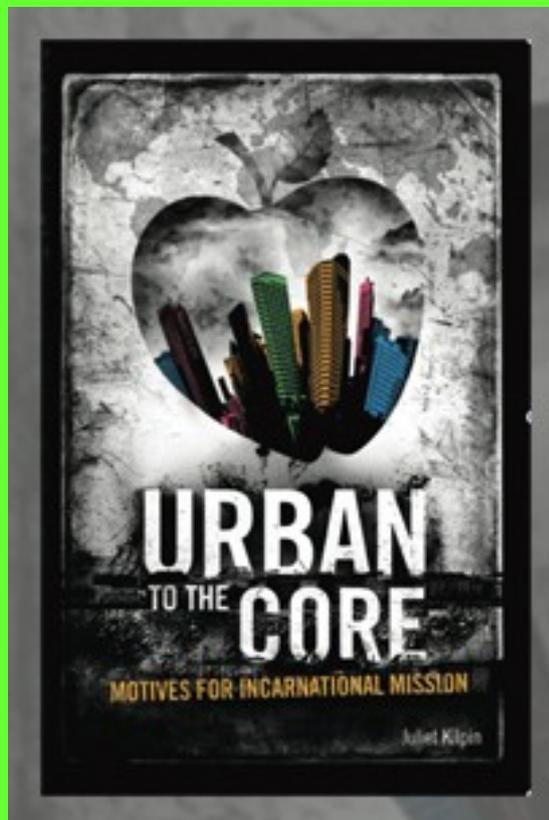

- Why are Christians from many traditions discovering Anabaptism?
- What are they finding inspirational and challenging in the Anabaptist vision?
- How can this 500 year old voice from the margins speak to followers of Jesus today?

The Naked Anabaptist is a straightforward introduction to Anabaptism. Written out of the British and Irish context, it explains why Christians ... adjusting to the realities of post-Christendom, are turning to the Anabaptist tradition for resources.

"I fully share Stuart Murray's enthusiasm for what the Christian community at large can learn from the Anabaptist way of being Christian"

Brian McLaren, author, speaker, activist

If you are concerned about cities, those on the margins of society, cross-cultural mission or new forms of church, this book will inspire and challenge your core convictions about mission priorities in an urban world.

About Urban Expression

"We are committed to following God on the margins and in the gaps, expecting to discover God at work among powerless people and in places of weakness."

"We recognise the importance of taking risks ... We value courage, creativity and diversity"

www.urbanexpression.org.uk