

NEEDED: Volunteers to work 2017 season at Camas on the Wild West of Scotland!

Camas is a unique outdoor centre based in an isolated bay in South West Mull, offering weekly residential programmes. With activities on our doorstep we offer nurturing outdoor and community experiences for young people from some of the UK's most disadvantaged areas.. We are looking for volunteers who are willing to give things a go, prepared to live in a very close knit community and who can offer real hospitality and warmth to centre guests.

We provide a seven month experience where you can model:

- Integrative community with particular emphasis on marginalised Glaswegian youth.
- Adventurous activities and routines that encourage relationship with nature.
- An off-grid simple lifestyle, tending to building, grounds, garden and woodland.
- Facilitating space with groups to reflect & make meaning together from our shared & individual experiences.

WHEN IS IT: April to September 2017

We offer you:

- Training and support
- 1 ½ days off a week and 2 weeks holiday.
- £30 allowance a week, full board and lodging including own room

Closing date: 4th January 2017

Applications: Please complete the application form. CV's are not accepted.
